

YOUR WORLD CONNECTED.

Pexip Infinity is video communications software that organizations can deploy across their IT infrastructure, in a public or private cloud or any hybrid combination – so that every individual can have their own personal high-quality video, audio and mobile meeting experience.

As an award-winning interoperability media platform, Pexip Infinity makes all your enterprise communications solutions work seamlessly together. Join virtual meetings using anything: videoconferencing, Microsoft Skype for Business or Surface Hub, or any web browser. Or use your phone, mobile device, and virtually everything else. And it's all software, so will always be up to date. It just works.
